Game mode The goal of the game is to win different races to unlock new levels as well as other vehicles in different scenarios; with the help of a third-person player. The game has a story mode consisting of different levels, each with variability between two and five playable cards. Filling the last one, the new racing cars are unlocked. Devices are evaluated on the basis of four statistics: speed, acceleration, compliance with traffic rules and weight; The reason why a player should choose according to the race that should travel is the best on this occasion. Initially, the equipment of the machines is five. You can also play in multiplayer mode, where the screen is split in half. In the computer version, only two can be played through the IPX and TCP protocols. The technical aspects of the game was released in the Microsoft Windows and PlayStation versions first on June 30, 1998 in Europe and then from October 1 of that year in North America. The game was also released in Japan and Australia. It was later also available on the Steam platform. My driving skills massively in real-life racing. I just love every minute that I get to hold with VRC. Brian Townsend (CA) Like many other riders, I once was a back-marker. ... before the VRC, I could see myself getting a little better every time out. After the VRC, everyone else notices how much better I'm driving. And with THE VRC, I can also just pick up the radio and put in 200-300 laps every night or whenever I want! Atsushi Hasegawa (JP) VRC is a learning tool for me. It's good to keep your driving skills for a real RC. That's why I think VRC is great for learning. Alojzi Osvald (SI) For me VRC Pro to get track time since I don't have any tracks in my area. It's a great tool to stay in shape because I can't ride on the track every weekend. So this super addition to the real thing is fair! Kevin Westendorf (USA) I am amazed by the quality and flow of the entire VRC Pro project. I've been racing RC Cars around the world for 20 years and this is going to change everything. Duarte Vasconcelos (PT) Is the best rc car simulator. This will not only help improve your driving, but also the way you customize the car. Let's race all year long in several classes and run against other drivers over the internet. In a word Brilliant. Riaan Rowan (USA) Is the best investment in your hobby/sport! This sim helped me become a better driver on all sides, my consistency improved so much and it helped me learn about car setup and how changes in installation affect my car handling and attitude. Every lap of the VRC Pro driving experience is fun. Leon Goode (UK) VRC is awesome, it's good to play online against famous drivers around the world, in a fight bash and a very competitive race against them, it's just so good. I love it ! Jason Hillcot (WA) Because of the VRC Pro, I noticed a much better sequence in my real rc race. Michael Crouch (AU) OMG It's Amazing! I've wanted an off-road sim for years and it's incredible. Putting back straight jumps up the side wall and cleaning the second countertop on the microphones is radical, each circle more fun. Richard Malmlef's (SE) VRC Pro off-road is awesome, I'm really impressed with the jumping and feel of the car. The price to use this great and fun training tool is also absolutely dirt cheap. Eric Brawley (UK) I'm totally blown away with the VRC Pro. Any person who is envisioned to get into RC racing should buy and use this as a basis for accumulating working knowledge of how the RC car is created and ran. © 2019 Virtual Racing Industries Bv.
